Dear Customer!

For the first time in a long time, Norway Post is introducing a new way to frank letters.

In April, we introduced postage labels to frank (large) letters, registered- and insured letters. The labels will not be delivered to customers, but will be affixed to the letter sent from a post office or Post in Shop. In addition to the price, the label will show the posting location, date and postcode.

The Europa stamps have a joint theme, Think Green. A competition was held between the PostEurop member countries, and the motif designed by Doxia Sergidou from Cyprus was selected for the Europa stamps of all member countries this year. In Norway, we also decided to issue our own submission to the competition, which was designed by Enzo Finger.

This year's youngest stamp honoree is Kristiansand Zoo and Amusement Park. The Zoo has evolved into one of Norway's most popular tourist attractions. This year it is turning 50, an occasion that is being celebrated with two stamps designed by illustrator Egil Nyhus.

Everyone talks about the weather. In particular, the Norwegian Meteorological Institute, which turns 150 this year. The weather means a lot to Norwegians, and few institutions have been as important for a society as the Norwegian Meteorological Institute. The artist behind the stamps is Bruno Oldani, a veteran of Norwegian design.

Speaking of the weather. We are approaching the warmest season of the year. Here at the Philatelic Service we would like to wish all of our customers a fantastic summer! See you in the autumn with our first stamp issue on 1 October.

Kind regards,

Halvor Fasting
Director

Norway Post introduces postage labels

On 4 April we introduced postage labels to frank large letters, registered- and insured letters

The labels were introduced in approximately 200 post offices, business centres and Post in Shops during weeks 14 and 15. The labels will be launched in another 1,300 locations starting in the autumn of 2016.

No Cancellation

The postage labels are primarily intended to frank large letters (A and B), registered- and domestic insured letters. The labels are not sold individually, but are used when sending a letter from a post office or Post in Shop. The date and posting location is printed on the label, so neither the letter nor the label have date stamps.

First Day Covers

The postage labels include the following information; date, post-code, postage amount, pricing table (1, 2 or 3), unit number (ID number to the sales location), any consignment number for registered- and insured letters. It is possible to combine postage labels and stamps on letters.

Subscription

For this first issue we have printed labels with Norway- Europe- and worldwide postage. The labels will be placed on their own First Day Cover and delivered in June to subscribers of First Day Covers and franking labels.

Please order in our webshop
posten.no/frimerkebutikken

Exhibition cards

May and June have been busy months for us at the Philatelic Service!

MS "Sjøkurs" was put into service as the Hurtigruten vessel MS "Ragnvald Jarl" in 1956. In May we celebrated the ship's 60th birthday in Hamburg. The same month we also visited the annual international stamp exhibition in Essen and NY 2016 StampShow in New York.
